Dear Christine,

Christoph Nebel advised that I contact you (since he is in Hamburg these days). I go to Brussels next week and will be "out" again from Feb. 10, possibly until Feb. 15. I have several questions about my participation. But first, thank you for the invitation to UNIT-n. Although I'm just back from one month of travelling (partly Winter Urlaub) all of the information you sent impresses me, and I'm quite happy that I can make time to join your program.

It might be easier to list my questions, since I need the information quite quickly. So:

1. You have me scheduled March 13, to "summarize the series" and analyse... This is good, especially with regard to Christoph's invitation/ letter. However, if I am to "summarize" I will need to attend as many of the programs as I can - which I am willing to do, but...

2. You offer to pay hotel and train fare - but, what I need to know is how many days/trips can you afford? I would like to come to the Feb. 27 program, for example, and of course the Symposium. In March from the 3 through the 13th. Perhaps you could organize some private accomodations. My partner, Wolf Dieter Aichberger, is interested to attend some of the programs, and on these occasions we would drive to Wien from Alberndorf. We might be able to arrange accomodations ourselves, but this is difficult to promise. I am willing to work on these details with you.

- 2 Tage Hotel
1 Zugfahr

3. Since you didn't mention a participation fee, I assume that you don't offer one. Now that I work free-lance internationally as a writer and curator (only infrequently in Austria), I make it a policy to always ask for a fee. We must speak about this together, and hopefully we can come up with a satisfactory solution.

What do you need from me? I can send my biography - anything else? I'll try to call Friday afternoon (Feb. 5) or Monday. We can discuss my points then, and probably add to the list.

Warmly,
Kathy Rae Huffman
