

Demotape aus Moskau für HILUS

1. "Bezunny Fritz" /45 min/

compilation from 26 soviet films about the Second World War by Vladimir Sorokin, Tatiana Didenko and Alexander Shamayskiy.

2. SILENCE #9 /september, 1993/:

"Yellodies" by German Vinogradov (experimental action with sound and soundrecording in TV studio);

clip about exhibition "Art as a power, power as an art" in Central House of Artists (Moscow), curator Olga Sviblova;

"METROPOLIS", 24 min film about Moscow metro (author Tatiana Didenko, director and editor Alexander Shamayskiy).

3. Demonstration "ASTRO" /february, 1994/ - 24 min film about young Moscow artist Alexey Beljaev, his life and his works by Alexey Beljaev, Tatiana Didenko and Alexander Shamayskiy.

4. "Complex 2"

samplers from special issue of SILENCE #9 about German and Soviet totalitarian art and its esthetical value. Remix of Leni Riefenstahl films and soviet documentaries of 30-s (author Tatiana Didenko, director and editor Alexander Shamayskiy).